Centennial Celebrations

As we welcome November, a month that reminds us to reflect on all we are grateful for, we give thanks for our Temple Beth Sholom family.

We continue to celebrate our Centennial Year and the traditions, connections, and community that have brought us together for 100 years. This month, we invite you to enjoy special arts and cultural events.

Your generosity, dedication, and commitment to our shared traditions continue to strengthen our congregation and inspire our future.

May this season bring you and your loved ones warmth, joy, and many reasons to be thankful. We are grateful to have you as part of our TBS family!

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends,

With the month of November upon us we are already looking toward Channukah, which comes early this year - the first night is December 4th. In the TBS office, we are busy planning for all of our wonderful Channukah services and celebrations, and we are grateful for the warmth of community and the light of Jewish spirit which the eight days of Channukah provide.

A question is asked in Jewish tradition as it relates to Channukah: What is so special about the number eight? We know that the number seven signifies the natural order - seven days of creation, seven primary colors of the rainbow, seven notes in the major musical scale. Eight, then, is the number of going beyond the natural order, of looking toward G-d's role in the created world to bring about that which is extraordinary, or that which is miraculous. For that reason, a bris for a baby boy occurs on the eighth day, the day when that which is natural meets that which is divine, the day set aside for covenant and special connection to G-d. In the same way, Channukah points us back to that number eight, its own reference to that which goes beyond the natural expectation that a little cruise of oil shouldn't last, and yet it does, as it points us toward the miracle of divine assistance.

The discussion around the counting of the days of Channukah and the miraculousness of the number eight goes even deeper. Our sages question why we should declare an eight day miracle, when it would seem that if there was in fact enough oil for the first day, that the first day would decidedly NOT be miraculous, but just a normal day, and only the subsequent seven days could truly be considered a part of the miracle. The question seems simple at first, but it points to a lesson about Channukah that all of us should take to heart when it comes to the real miracle that we celebrate during this festive season.

An answer: The first day of the eight days of Channukah, the day when there WAS enough oil for light, was the most miraculous of all. Why? It was on the first day of Channukah that all hope seemed completely lost. It was on the first day of Channukah that the Kohen in charge of lighting might have said, "Why bother, it doesn't matter anyway, there isn't enough." It was on the first day of Channukah that any normal person might have given up, and yet we didn't - and that was the greatest miracle of all. Remember it was during the darkest and coldest months of the year our Jewish ancestors, the Maccabees, were in the midst of a most difficult trial. Their Temple had been destroyed, their way of life threatened; they were left unsure of what the future might bring. It would have been easy for the Maccabees to simply give in to the feelings of despair that threaten all of us, even the most faithful among us, at times in life. We know, however, that their story did not end in that way. Without knowing what would become of their cause, the Maccabees found the courage to light a single light on that first night to inspire them to reach higher, like the flame of a candle that flickers ever upward toward G-d. The miracle of that first night was found not in the oil lasting, but in the spiritual strength which we cling to when we need it most, in the determination to forge ahead courageously and faithfully, to bring light into the darkness of our world even in the face of the challenges that an uncertain future may bring.

Thousands of years later, as Channukah brings us to the new secular year of 2027, there will be blessings to enjoy, and challenges we face as individuals. May we remember the story of our ancestors, the Maccabees, and the miracle not only of G-d's assistance to them and to us, but of their willingness to face life with courage and strength. May the lights of the holiday season guide each of us toward deeper faith, and with kindness in our hearts for one another, may the coming year bring renewal and the light of Torah wisdom to our world,

-Rabbi Dermer

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As October passes into history, let's remember the passage of the High Holy Day season with the end of Sukkot followed by Shmini Atzeret and Simchat Torah. This was a beautiful season, our first celebrated with Rabbi Dermer. And a wonderful season it was. Members and guests alike left TBS inspired by the beauty of the services led by Rabbi Dermer enhanced by Cantor Taibel's singing which gets better every year! While all services were well attended, the Simchat Torah services were very well received and enjoyed by a large crowd.

We have much to look forward to in November, several under the auspices of our Centennial year. On the 1st, we have Sheryl Faye coming in the role of RBG. On November 14 we have our Centennial Shabbat, very close to the actual anniversary of the notarizing of our Articles of Incorporation on November 16. November 15th brings us Cantor Taibel's concert "Music Through the TBS Decades." This should be a wonderful event.

In addition, we have Havdalah and the film, The Music Box, on November 7. Our Lunch and Learn series kicked off on October 15th with "Signs are Everywhere".

And, of course, we all have much to be thankful for on Thanksgiving Day, 11/26.

I'm particularly thankful for our wonderful membership. Regrettably, in the past couple of months we've lost some dear fellow members, and for those we mourn.

Our members are warm and welcoming, and you are so willing to step up when we need help with something or a fellow member needs you. Thank you, and we are especially thankful this year for our strong membership growth these past few months. As of this writing, we've added sixteen new member units recently. Thank you for joining us. We're glad you're here. Please let us know how we can make you feel even more welcome.

Lastly, but far from least, please don't forget to vote on or before Tuesday, November 3. It's important that all voices be heard in our elections.

See you in shul!

Elliott Corn

CANTOR'S MESSAGE

Shalom Chaverim,

I can't believe we're already in November. I would like to take some of my monthly article to plug the Centenial Concert featuring Cantor David Childs and myself with accompaniment provided by Don Bryn. The repertoire of this concert will include everything from Yiddish Folk Tunes and Chazanut, from Folk songs and Musical Theater numbers written by prominent Jewish composers. I am so excited to be bringing in Cantor Childs. He is an incredible baritone and an accomplished musician. His voice has a powerful and warm quality that will fill our synagogue beautifully. Don Bryn returns to TBS having accompanied the installation concert. I cannot be more excited to be performing with these incredibly accomplished musicians and amazing people.

The theme of this concert is our centennial as a synagogue, our legacy, and the future. 100 years is a long time for something to exist, and TBS has not only existed but thrived. The word legacy is something that is incredibly important in regards to Judaism, especially when it comes to where we will be in the Torah throughout the month. The theme of legacy is one that tends to envelop Avraham as he becomes the first Jew. God tells Avraham "I will bestow My blessing upon you and make your descendants as numerous as the stars of heaven and the sands on the seashore; and your descendants shall seize the gates of their foes." Abraham planted the seeds for what his descendants would get to experience. One of my favorite quotes about legacy comes from the hit Broadway musical, Hamilton. In the final act, Alexander Hamilton laments his legacy ahead of his impending death at the hands of Aaron Burr: "If I throw away my shot, is this how you'll remember me? What if this bullet is my legacy? Legacy, what is a legacy? It's planting seeds in a garden you never get to see." Just as our ancestors planted for us, and previous past iterations of leadership did for Temple Beth Sholom, it is our duty to plant the seeds for the next generation to take over and experience that which we may not.

So as we prepare to celebrate 100 years of being a Synagogue, let us acknowledge the legacy of those who came before us, and be able to build a future in which future generations can come to TBS and be able to feel as if they are part of the grand history of this Temple. May we have our eyes to the future, but remember that the past is what shapes us. From generation to generation we continue to guide each other to a new era here at Temple Beth Sholom. I pray this upcoming concert will not only honor our past, but also help us to look forward to an exciting future. I look forward to seeing you there..

Belle & Ted Probst

We met in High School in Fair Lawn, New Jersey. We moved to Sarasota from New York City in the summer of 1978 and joined Temple Beth Sholom with our two daughters, Michele (7) and Arlene (2). Belle taught 5th grade in Cinaminson, NJ, while Ted studied medicine in Philadelphia. Ted spent his career as a neurologist and is now retired after 48 years. He is an Emeritus staff member at Sarasota Memorial, where he served as chief of medicine and is a founding member of the bioethics committee. Belle worked in the primary care physician's office in Venice for twelve years. Our daughters were both Bar Mitzvah, confirmed presidents of USY, and married at Temple Beth Sholom.

Belle has served as Vice President of Youth Education and Treasurer of the Sisterhood at TBS. Belle volunteers at All Faiths Food Bank, and Ted volunteers in the medical library at Sarasota Memorial Hospital.

They both help with Men's Club breakfast & Sisterhood Luncheon programs.
Both also volunteer to raise the Sukkah each year during Sukkot, and currently, on Wednesdays, Ted volunteers at the TBS front desk.

Bar Mitzvah Project

Yosef Tyrrell

Yosef Tyrrell, son of Joshua and Purity Tyrrell, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, December 5, 2026, at Temple Beth Sholom in Sarasota.

Yosef loves gaming, has a great sense of humor, and works hard at the things he puts his mind to. He's also a great big brother to his four younger sisters.

For his mitzvah project, Yosef is collecting essential items for Mother's Helping Mothers, a local organization that helps families in need. His goal is to collect 130 items in honor of his Bar Mitzvah.

Ruth Bader Ginsburg – "I Dissent"

Ruth Bader Ginsburg was an American lawyer and jurist who served as an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States from 1993 until her death in September 2020. She was the second woman and the first Jewish woman ever appointed to the Court and became the longest serving Jewish Justice.

She championed fairness and equality and objected to different expectations for men and women, prejudice against minority groups in places like hotels and restaurants, and women having fewer job opportunities than men. Ruth served on the national board of the ACLU (American Civil Liberties Union) and launched The Women's Rights Project, she continued to be a leading voice for gender equality, women's interests, and civil rights and liberties.

SOCIAL ACTION

A Wonderful Day of Community and Giving

In the spirit of Sukkot, the Jewish harvest festival that celebrates gratitude, generosity, and sharing our blessings, Temple Beth Sholom's Annual Interfaith Luncheon was a wonderful success!

Our community gathered to enjoy a delicious meal prepared with care by our dedicated committee members and volunteers.

Thanks to our community's generosity, we donated proceeds from the Interfaith Luncheon and the High Holy Days Food Drive to All Faiths Food Bank, helping support local families facing food insecurity.

Sukkot reminds us of the importance of caring for one another and sharing our blessings with those in need. We are grateful to everyone who volunteered, contributed, and participated in making this event a meaningful celebration of community, compassion, and the spirit of giving.
